INDIA – MEASURES CONCERNING SUGAR AND SUGARCANE

REQUEST FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A PANEL BY BRAZIL

The following communication, dated 11 July 2019, from the delegation of Brazil to the Chairperson of the Dispute Settlement Body, is circulated pursuant to Article 6.2 of the DSU.

1. On 27 February 2019, the Government of Brazil ("Brazil") requested consultations with the Government of India ("India") pursuant to Articles 1 and 4 of the Understanding on Rules and Procedures Governing the Settlement of Disputes ("DSU"), Article 19 of the Agreement on Agriculture, and Article XXII:1 of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994 ("GATT 1994") with respect to all domestic support India provides in favour of agricultural producers of sugarcane and sugar, as well as all export subsidies India provides for sugar and sugarcane. Consultations were held on 15 April 2019. Unfortunately, those consultations did not resolve the dispute.

2. Accordingly, Brazil respectfully requests that the Dispute Settlement Body ("DSB") establish a panel pursuant to Article 6 of the DSU, Article XXIII:2 of the GATT 1994 and Article 19 of the Agreement on Agriculture. Brazil further requests that this panel have standard terms of reference as set out in Article 7.1 of the DSU.

I. Background

3. In recent years, India has massively increased the level of domestic support under its support regime for sugarcane and sugar. For example, India has almost doubled the Fair and Remunerative Price for sugarcane from INR 1391.2 per tonne in 2010/11 to INR 2750 per tonne in 2018/19. That Fair and Remunerative Price is the minimum price that, under Indian Federal law, Indian sugar mills must pay Indian sugarcane producers. It constitutes one of India's most important support measures for sugarcane producers. In addition, some of India's States provide for higher minimum prices for sugarcane that local sugar mills must pay local sugarcane producers. Moreover, India has recently reintroduced a minimum price for sugar, pursuant to which sugar producers shall not sell white sugar or refined sugar in the domestic market at a price below the price fixed by the government.

4. Minimum prices for sugarcane and sugar, along with further support measures, incentivise Indian sugarcane farmers to grow large amounts of sugarcane. Specifically, India's domestic support regime for sugarcane and sugar has led to increased domestic production of sugarcane and sugar in India. With production exceeding domestic sugar demand, and resulting increases in sugar stocks, the Government of India further, and regularly, intervenes in the market. For the 2018/19 season alone, the Government of India has approved dozens of assistance programs, worth over INR 55 billion, to support the sugar industry.<sup>1</sup>

5. Moreover, sugar mills in India are assigned a mill-specific Minimum Indicative Export Quota ("MIEQ").<sup>2</sup> Under the MIEQ, sugar mills must export an allocated amount of sugar by the end of each season. The total amount that the mills are mandated to export has increased from 2 million tons in 2017/18 to 5 million tons in 2018/19, leading to substantial pricing pressures on world market prices. Certain of India's support measures are dependent on compliance with the MIEQ, or otherwise dependent on export performance.

<sup>2</sup> See, e.g., Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution Notification No.1(4)/2018-SP-I of 28 September 2018; Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution Notification No.1(4)/2018-SP-I of 9 May 2018, and the related measures identified in Section III, below.

6. The specific measures that are the subject of this request for the establishment of a Panel are domestic support measures for sugarcane and sugar, as well as export subsidies for sugar and sugarcane, as specifically identified in Sections II and III, respectively.

IV. Claims of Inconsistency Against the Domestic Support Measures

17. Brazil recalls that India did not schedule a domestic support reduction commitment level in Section I of Part IV of its Schedule XII. Accordingly, under Article 6.4 of the Agreement on Agriculture, India's product-specific domestic support for sugarcane is limited to a de minimis level at or below 10 per cent of the value of production of sugarcane. Brazil considers that India's provision of domestic support through the measures listed in Part 0 (paragraphs 8 to 12, above) is inconsistent with India's obligations under Articles 3.2, 6.3 and 7.2(b) of the Agreement on Agriculture because it is in excess of India's de minimis entitlement of 10 percent of the value of production.

V. Claims of Inconsistency Against the Export Subsidy Measures

18. Brazil further recalls that India did not schedule an export subsidy reduction commitment under Section II of Part IV of its Schedule XII pertaining to sugar or sugarcane that would permit it to use export subsidies. Accordingly, India may not provide export subsidies pertaining to sugar or sugarcane. Brazil considers that the measures listed in Part 0 of this request for consultations (paragraphs 14 to 16, above) provide export subsidies pertaining to sugar or sugarcane. Accordingly, these measures are inconsistent with India's export subsidy obligations under Articles 3.3, 8, 9.1 and 10.1 of the Agreement on Agriculture.
